How To Use These Prompts With The Most Popular AI Image Generation Tools

Using AI-generated prompts to create watercolor coloring book pages is a straightforward process. In the full Watercolor Coloring Books report we explain how to choose your AI platform and how to use these prompts.

You can customise them as much as you like (we encourage you to do it!), what you've got in this report is just a collection of ideas to get you started. Here's the basic process to using the prompts in the next chapter but check the full training for full information.

1. Choose Your AI Platform: The prompts in this report are designed to work with as suggestion starters and ideas for AI image generation platforms such as Midjourney, DALL-E, and Stable Diffusion.
2. Input the Prompt: Copy and paste one of the provided prompts into your chosen AI platform's input field. They are JUST ideas that you can then combine with the prompts we have got in the MAIN report, to give you suggestions to branch out. They are NOT made to be completely copy and pasted, but need editing for your particular AI platform.
3. Adjust Parameters: Depending on the platform, you may have options to adjust image size, style, or other parameters. Experiment with these to achieve the desired look for your coloring pages.
4. Generate, Rinse & Repeat: Click the generate button to create your image. If the result isn't quite what you're looking for, try regenerating or slightly modifying the prompt.
5. Refine the Image: Once you have a base image you like, you may need to refine it using image editing software to ensure it's suitable for a coloring book (e.g., creating clear lines, removing unwanted details).

Once you've got your image, follow the Watercolor Coloring Books training system to turn that image into a watercolor ready product you can print and publish :)
